MOTORMAN WAS BUMPED 2,188,800 TIMES, AND IS ILL

F. W. Chapin Victim of Flat Wheel on Street Car No. 10—Has Nervous Prostration.

Janesville's disreputable street railway system has claimed another victim, this time one of the street railway employees.

Two million, one hundred and eighty-eight thousand, eight hundred and eighty times, the flat wheel on car No. 10, did the work. These figures, if anything, are very conservative.

On evening day, August 13, Motorman F. W. Chapin, 401 Milton Ave., set the brakes on the aforesaid rattletrap, in order to carry a heavy load of passengers down the Milwaukee St. hill in safety. A flat spot on one of the wheels resulted.

From that day, until he was forced to take to his bed on Sept. 11, Mr. Chapin piloted that car on the streets of Janesville. Every day he was bumped 75,800 times. This result was computed by a well known mathematician of this city and may be considered accurate. Twenty-eight days piling up a total of 2,188,800 jarring thumps.

The long suffering motorman endured this until his nervous system could no longer resist and gave up the fight. On Sept. 11 he took to his bed with nervous prostration and for a time was a very sick man. He is now slowly improving. Two million, one hundred and eighty-eight thousand, eight hundred times are "some" bumps.

The long continued thumping made Mr. Chapin ill. They are making a number of residents on Milton Ave. angry. Several cases of ineffectual nervous prostration have appeared among the residents on that street.

FIVE WERE BROUGHT INTO COURT FOR DRUNKENNESS

Two Went to Jail, Two Paid Fines And One Given Thirty Minutes to "Beat It" Out of Town.

Five persons were brought up in municipal court this morning. Jim Nelson, who has been working on a farm south of the city, pleaded a toothache as the cause for taking a couple of drinks, and drew five days in jail. Martin Heyland, a farmer living at Cottage Grove, near Madison, came to town yesterday and filled up on "red eye." He pleaded guilty and a fine of $3 or five days in jail, was the sentence. This was lowered to $2 and costs, to allow him to go home, on his promise not to touch the wine when it was red. James Ferguson, "always guilty," who was barely sobered up, went to jail for ten days in default of a sentence of a $25 fine and costs. A sentence of five days in jail was suspended, on condition that he get out of town in thirty minutes. He went. David Cunningham made arrangements to pay a fine of $2 and costs.

NEW HOSPITAL NEED WAS MADE APPARENT

By the Object Lesson Yesterday—No Accommodations Were Available for Men Shot at New Yards.

The inadequacy of the present hospital building with its accommodations for eighteen patients—twenty when made very apparent yesterday when it was found impossible to take care of the man shot down at the new yards. The building is old and utterly unworthy of the expensive repairs that will soon be necessary to keep it even in running order. Janesville needs a hospital with fifty or sixty beds and thirty-five nurses. It will cost from $35,000 to $40,000 and a start to raise that amount cannot be made too soon.

Dead Lightning.

During a violent thunderstorm last summer in northern New York the inhabitants of several towns were surprised to observe, several times in succession, a short luminous streak which appeared at a particular point in the clouds and remained visible about two seconds at a time. This was an example of the rare phenomenon called dead lightning. When seen to advantage it resembles a string of luminous beads hung in a cloud, the beads being somewhat elliptical and the ends of their axes in the line of their discharge being colored red and purple respectively. As seen in New York the line was viewed nearly end-on, and there was only a suggestion of color visible.

The tail was thirty feet long.

Use of Precious Metals.

Few persons realize what an enormous amount of the precious metals and even precious stones, such as diamonds, are used in the manufacture of telephone apparatus. In a single year one company uses upward of a ton of platinum for this class of apparatus alone. And platinum costs 50 per cent. more than pure gold, demonstrating that this expensive metal would not be used so extensively unless results justified it.

Frank Parlihan Bed.

One of the furniture dealers of Paris is showing a novelty in the form of a bed. It is to all appearances an ordinary bed, but the weight of the body upon it sets clockwork in motion, thus operating a music box which gives forth soothing melodies. The influence which is played are supposed to induce sleep. By means of a dial at the head of the bed the person who occupies it fixes an alarm for the next morning. This produces, when the hour arrives, discordant sounds, to which the person in bed must pay heed, because failure to rise within five minutes after the noise has begun will cause the bottom of the bed to fall out.

COURT FOR WORKERS

Where Differences Are Settled Free.

LEGAL ADVICE GIVEN GRATIS

Tollers Can Get Justice in France Without Having to Incur the Expense of an Attorney.

There are special courts in France for working people of all classes, where they can bring their cases and have the advice of a judge gratuitously, says John Cutler Covert. They are not trials so much as they are advisory courts.

To explain their workings I will give an example. While United States consul at Lyons I employed a boy to work at the consulate, agreeing upon a certain sum per month. At the end of three weeks his mother came to the consulate and said that the boy's services were worth two dollars more than the amount stipulated. After consulting a lawyer I refused to pay her. Thereupon she called me before the court.

On arriving there I found the judge hearing the case of a young servant girl who had been summarily discharged by her employer without receiving the eight days' notice required by law. The girl stated her own case to the judge, saying that she had been in the employ of the family several years and that without any warning she had been discharged. The employer was then questioned. The court remarked that as he had employed her for so long a time her services must have been satisfactory and that he had no right to send her away without giving her time to find another place.

"I advise her," said the judge, "to bring a suit against you if you do not pay her the eight days' wages. If you do not pay her you will have to go to the expense of a hearing before a court, and she will certainly get a judgment against you."

The man paid the sum demanded and the girl retired satisfied. If he had not paid her she would have had a lawyer furnished by the city gratuitously.

When I was called I arose and presented my case to the judge. The plaintiff was then given an opportunity to present her claims. She made an excited harangue, enlarging on the merits of her boy and the hard work he was given to do, and again demanded two dollars more than was agreed upon. I simply stated what I had agreed to pay the boy, that I had my witness to prove it, and was ready to give it on the spot.

"I see," said I, "that you have a box for the poor of your parish. I will contribute two dollars to that box for the poor, but I will not give the boy more than I agreed to."

The judge advised the woman to accept the sum agreed upon, which she did. I dropped the five-franc pieces in the box and withdrew.

"CIRCUIT RIDER" KILLS SELF.

Prof. Harris, Racked by Ill Health Takes Poison.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 20.—Professor J. M. Harris of Nashville, husband of the woman who wrote "The Circuit Rider's Wife," which brought them both into prominence for awhile, committed suicide at Pine Lodge, near Cartersville.

Racked by ill health and worn out by the struggle for a livelihood, he took an overdose of morphine, which brought him relief from all his pains. For years he had been a Methodist minister, but recently had been given an appointment with the Methodist Publishing House in Nashville.

PRESIDENT TO GIVE HIS MORAL SUPPORT

To Col. Roosevelt in the New York Campaign—National Administration to Be Endorsed.

Chairman Griscom of the republican county committee, said today that the Taft-Roosevelt conference of yesterday would not have the effect of changing in the least the plans of the progressives in their campaign against the "Old Guard" and for control of the republican state convention. He is satisfied with the result. Reports from progressives up state, Griscom said, indicate at least 570 of 1,015 delegates will support Roosevelt for the temporary chairmanship while the "Old Guard" leaders claim about 560.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 19.—Prior to President Taft's departure for Cincinnati he and Col. Theodore Roosevelt had a long conference here over the New York political situation.

Colonel Roosevelt sought the conference with the president. It was plain from all that transpired before and after the meeting that the colonel and his close political advisers were not a little worried over the situation in New York state and came to the president for further evidence of his moral support.

This the president was glad to give. He declared his position in the New York state fight has been clear from the first. He said he sympathized heartily with the fight against "bossism" being waged by the people of the state.

Stands for Direct Primaries.

Mr. Taft reiterated the statements he made in his letter to Lloyd C. Griscom, president of the New York county republican committee, at the time of the Sherman-Roosevelt controversy over the temporary chairmanship. This letter, he added, stated his position fully and accurately, and he was standing on it absolutely.

Mr. Taft announced to his callers what he had said in the Griscom letter; that he favored direct primaries for the nomination of congressmen and state legislators. He understands this to be the purpose of the Cobb bill, as amended by the Seth Low and Joseph Choate memorial. He said he hoped that a declaration for such a primary law would be written into the republican state platform and that a candidate for governor in sympathy with this movement would be nominated.

Not Against State Conventions.

President Taft is not ready as yet to admit the advisability of doing away with conventions for the nomination of state officers from governor down. Mr. Taft understands that both Governor Hughes and Colonel Roosevelt are now practically in accord with his own position, although the governor fought at first for direct primaries for all offices.

President Taft and Colonel Roosevelt did not discuss the question of the presidency in 1912. The president has not been advised as to what Mr. Roosevelt's attitude is toward that campaign. From sources close to the president it was said there was no occasion to discuss this subject.

Meeting Not a "Love Feast."

Mr. Taft is willing to run if nominated, his advisers say. If his friends think there is a good chance for him to be re-elected, Mr. Taft feels that they will see to his nomination. Mr. Taft's political friends say if the American people want him for a second term not even Colonel Roosevelt can prevent his nomination. If the people do not appear to want him, Mr. Taft will be only too glad to submit to their decision.

It can be stated that the meeting at New Haven, while it may have been successful in its "acoustic effect," and of moral advantage to the Roosevelt leaders in New York state, was absolutely barren of results as to any better understanding between the president and Colonel Roosevelt as to national issues or their personal relations, in view of many recent events.

Truce Only for Campaign?

Something in the nature of a truce seems to have been arranged regarding the New York state situation. After that is over, events will shape themselves. Colonel Roosevelt himself is said to have let drop the hint that as to his side of the matter "something would be doing" after the elections. Mr. Taft is letting 1912 look out for itself. He declares he has other matters of concern at the moment.

It came out at the conference, which in addition to the president and Colonel Roosevelt, included Lloyd C. Griscom, Otto Hannard and Secretary Norton, that the Taft administration is to be endorsed at Saratoga. No mention of Mr. Taft as a candidate in 1912 will be made.

SAVED BY PRIEST'S TESTIMONY

Woman Freed of Murder Charge by Man's Dying Statement.

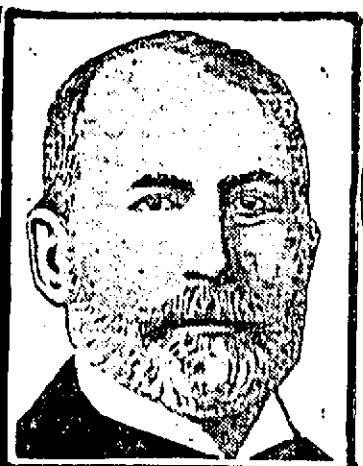

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 20.—Rev. Kinzie of St. Michael's Roman Catholic church of Braddock, went on the witness stand in criminal court in the murder trial of Mrs. Anna Mazirik, accused of murdering her husband, John, and gave testimony relating to the last statements of the dying husband which saved the woman from the gallows. The jury freed her after being out a few moments.

The testimony of the priest was of the most importance because an eleven-year-old daughter of the woman, supposed to be an eye witness, had just given testimony fixing murder almost positively on her mother.

MAYOR W. GAYNOR

CONG. WILLIAM SULZER

THOMAS MOTT OSBORNE

JAMES S. HAVENS

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATES FOR GUBERNATORIAL HONORS IN NEW YORK.

(By Special Correspondent.)

New York.—While the Republicans are discussing and fighting for the control of the Saratoga convention and who will dominate it, the Democrats are busy as actively grooming their representative candidates for the Rochester convention, which opens September 29.

At the present time there are five candidates who stand out prominently as possible nominees. They are Mayor Gaynor of New York city, Congressman William Sulzer, Thomas M. Osborne, James S. Havens and Edward M. Shepard.

State Chairman John A. Dix, who succeeded "Flingy" Conners, will be the leading power in the convention, with Charles F. Murphy, leader of the Tammany forces, as another great factor. Norman E. Mack will be present and take an active part in the selection of the Democratic standard bearer. At the present time there seems to be a well formed movement in favor of Mayor Gaynor, although he has repeatedly stated he did not wish to be considered as a candidate. Many insist that if the convention nominates him he will be forced to accept whether he so desires or not and it is well known he would make a strong run in view of his great service in New York city as mayor. He will be opposed by "Flingy" Conners, who backs "Bill" Sulzer as the strongest man in the race, on the ground that he can command 200,000 German votes in New York state which no other candidate can get.

James S. Havens of Rochester, who defeated George W. Aldrich in such a decisive manner, is receiving the hearty support of his own county. Should the down state forces swing to him he could undoubtedly put up a stiff fight for the governorship.

Thomas M. Osborne, former public service commissioner and former mayor of Auburn, N. Y., is another candidate who looms up, together with Edward M. Shepard, as strong possibilities.

FROCK FOR YOUNG GIRL

This dainty frock for a young girl of about sixteen years is of white muslin in princess style elaborately made with fine tucks, English embroidery and valenciennes lace. It is finished with a deep flounce of the English embroidery.

The attractive hat is also of muslin, the soft crown entirely fashioned of the embroidery, with draperies of soft pink satin ribbon.

Utilizing the Dutch Collar.

A pretty way of using the deep, round lace or embroidery Dutch collar is to renovate shirt waists with them. Blouses always wear out around the neck first and are often discarded solely on this account. When this is so, put on the waist after cutting away the band collar only and then lay on the deep collar.

Have some person pin all around the lower edge of it to the waist. Then baste and carefully sew. Afterward cut away the material underneath the collar and sew hooks and eyes to the edges in the back. A stock collar may be added if preferred.

Fashions for Boys.

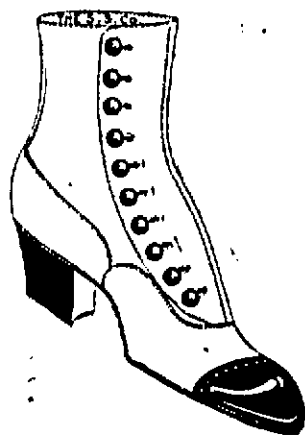

An occasional suit in heavy pongee is seen, even for the boy of ten, and this, too, is self-trimmed and finished with the strictest tailor effects, as a first-class outing shirt for a man would be. The waist which older boys are best pleased with has a center box plait, and one or more pockets. A heavy leather belt, with large buckle, and a soft tie, often a Windsor, are the usual accompaniments to such suits. Low, rolling collars are provided for the boy of 6 or 7, but a high turn-over form is preferred for the older boy.—Harper's Bazar.

THE BUSINESS SITUATION

That politics and business are closely allied is a fact apparent to every observing mind. Political campaigns are always a distracting element and the one in which we are now engaged is of peculiar significance because of the issues involved. An eastern exchange offers the following very sensible comments:

"Never was the opportunity greater for the need more pressing for the exercise of good common sense and courage in business affairs than is the case today. Notwithstanding the sound fundamental conditions and the acknowledged fact that the wealth of the country this year will be enormously augmented by a beautiful harvest there is a hesitation and fear attendant upon business enterprise that is acting as a serious handicap. In fact, the industrial activity that is enjoyed today is due mostly to urgent requirements rather than to the natural development of trade, which would be very much greater if the minds of men were not so harassed by the fear of untoward events that are not likely ever to occur. For some time past business has been going forward spasmodically. Stocks of raw materials in manufacturers' hands are generally low. Buying is from hand to mouth. When it is considered that this sort of industrial activity prevails it is, indeed, amazing that the volume of business is as large as it is.

"A recent canvass of some of the most important industries of the country revealed the fact that they are running from 70 to 100 per cent of capacity, a remarkable showing in view of the unrest prevailing and particularly when it is remembered that most of the larger corporations have greatly increased their capacity during the past few years.

"Inquiries for pig iron and steel products of large volume are reported this week, but new business in these lines is not important. The railways are reporting larger gross earnings than for August, but are holding back orders for equipment and rails until they know definitely what freight rates they will be permitted to charge.

"It is believed that politics will in time dwindle as a distracting factor, but at present business interests view the political turmoil as having but one outcome—a revision of the tariff. Consequently, they do not believe in venturing far in new enterprise until they know what the new schedules are to be.

"According to the expressed views of many large interests they are more apprehensive of the results of a new tariff than they are of a change in administration. But business is bound to thrive, more or less, notwithstanding turbulent political conditions. Many large undertakings have been pending for several years. Some will be pushed through by force of necessity, despite prevailing handicaps. This country is too prosperous, and her people too progressive, to permit business stagnation. The exercise of ordinary business acumen, mixed with a little courage, will do wonders toward keeping the wheels of progress in motion."

THE APPLE CROP

If the people of Wisconsin were dependent on the budget state for apples this year, they would do without the fruit, for the crop was a total failure, but fortunately the country has a wide area, and failure of any crop simply represents local interests. The apple status this year have an abundant crop, and the methods of distribution are so perfect, in spite of untoward conditions, that the people generally will share in the luxury. The following from a Pittsburg exchange is convincing, to say the least.

"In the foothills of the Blue Ridge and Piedmont, Va., there are apple orchards which yield from $450 to $600 an acre. Apples are the principal fruit crop of the state. They are extensively grown, and every year more trees are planted. In one of the valleys counties a 17-year old orchard of 1,150 trees produced a crop which the farmer sold for $10,000, or nearly $10 a tree.

"Another small orchard of fifty 20-year old trees brought $700. In Patrick county there is a single tree, 9 feet 6 inches around, which has borne 110 bushels of apples in one crop. And this output has been exceeded by other trees.

"An Albemarle county farmer got $15,000 for a single crop of Albemarle pippins grown on twenty acres of land. These are facts, not fancies.

"The apple, peach and pear trees in Virginia are counted by millions. In Albemarle county alone there are 505,000 apple, 110,000 peach and 3,800 pear trees. Twenty-two counties have each more than 100,000 apple trees. Yet Virginia ranks fourth among the apple-growing states of the Union.

"The buyers usually buy the apples on the trees, paying cash and doing their own picking, unless the seller prefers some other arrangement. As much as $600 an acre has been paid for apples on the trees. The apple production of the whole country has been decreasing for thirteen years. Instead of increasing, but the spreading revival of land sentiment is likely to give a renewed spirit to the business in all sections.

"Several enterprising Virginia apple growers sold their crops last year for from $10,000 to $20,000, and the farms on which they were raised did not include more than twenty-five, forty and fifty acres each, the latter being the outside figure. A forty-acre apple orchard near Roanoke was sold last year for $25,000. Another orchard owner there, but a little larger, refused $30,000 for the crop of his trees."

Six hundred machinists are on a strike at the Mitchell-Lewis Motor Co. plant in Madison. The company is not worried as the outlook is not promising for business. Factor Manager Harte said the automobile situation was in a critical condition and that his plants are operating with 25 per cent of the usual number of employees. The market is flooded and some factories are working and without orders on their books. In all factories it is claimed there are thousands of automobiles which cannot be sold even at low prices. An attempt is being made by the larger automobile companies to manufacture parts for other companies in order to keep their plants in operation.

The letter of Mayor Gaynor to his sister, published today, holds the Hearst newspapers responsible for the attempt on his life. The New York Journal is the yellowest of the yellow. It has vilified and caricatured the mayor over since his election and the aim element of the city was ready to do its suggestive bidding. The people may wake up to the fact, some day, that this sort of journalism should be discouraged.

The peace conference in New Haven, between the two "Presidents" may result in a better understanding, so far as the political situation in New York is concerned, but it was not a love feast. President Taft has been so completely ignored by the man who overshadowed him that time will be required to settle the differences. The question of vital importance is not the campaign of 1912, but the campaign of 1910.

Rev. Woodward, pastor of the Methodist church at Omro, has withdrawn from the church as the result of a reprimand from the conference for actively campaigning for Frances E. McGovern, the successful candidate for governor. Mr. Woodward is liable to have his name attached to the state payroll.

Tariff agitation, with many prospective changes, means the unsettling of business and an era of uncertainty. The outlook for these conditions is promising and the "change" which so many people are demanding is likely to be a painful reality. There is always plenty of time to think, after the horse is stolen.

The state fair of 1910 has passed to history as among the most successful sessions of the organization.

It is to the credit of organized labor that socialism is under the ban. With the "new nationalism" looming up, almost any political creed can find shelter, and an all-round merger may be the result.

The short session of congress will be republican, but what the complexion will be after the 4th of March next only the November elections will determine. A democratic House is more than probable.

Capital does not retire in a night, but its gradual withdrawal means restricted production, and hardship to the masses.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

HONOR THY FATHER.

Young man—
"That you love your mother there can be no doubt. Every son loves his mother, and most of them show their love by ways that mother understands. But your father, boy.

You love your dad, of course, but in a different way. Possibly you honor him, but how seldom you show him filial respect!

Down under your crust you thoroughly respect the man whose name you bear, do you not?

But never until you have a boy of your own will you understand how sorely you can hurt your sire when you flout his good advice or show by your manner that you think "your old man" is somewhat of a back number.

So certainly as you live there will come a day when the memory of an unkind act or speech toward your father will cause you deep regret. It may be when father sleeps in his grave.

You will remember that you showed your love for your mother by acts and words of affection, but decided that to your father, whom you also loved.

Remember, son, that father's ways are different from mother's. Father has had to fight the world for a living, and the world has taught him to conceal his feelings. Have you not yourself begun to feel how the world hardens a man on the outside?

Your father loves you, boy, little if any less than your mother, only he cannot show it. It is deep down—under his vest.

And proud of you? Nobody on this earth can be prouder of you when you do something worth while than father. Any one can see that. You can see it yourself.

Another thing:

Do not get the idea in your head that father has not kept up with the procession of the world's progress. It may be so in some cases, but the chances are that father knows a great deal more about everything worth knowing than you do. When you are, say, thirty years old you will realize the fact.

And do not think father is unnecessarily firm or arbitrary.

He may make mistakes, but when he says "No," he is saying it for your good. He is usually right. He wants to make a man of you. And the longer you live the more will you agree that he is the safest, kindest and wisest adviser you ever knew.

Honor him who looks like you.

After Dinner Oratory.

"Terwilliger, the trouble with you is that you eat too fast. You didn't come into that restaurant until I had been eating for half an hour or more, and yet you finished as soon as I did. You don't half masticate your victuals. Some day you'll suffer agonies from dyspepsia, if you don't now. I make it an invariable custom to chew my food thoroughly, no matter how busy I am."

"Yes, but that's no reason, Jerome, why you should chew your toothpick for half an hour after you've quit eating."

Uncle Walt THE POET PHILOSOPHER

By WALT MASON.
(Copyright, 1909, by George Mathew Adams.)

I spend my weary days in jail, and O, the hours seem sad and long! I lean against the bars and JUSTICE is blind. Why are these fetters on my legs? Why do I sleep on mouldy straw? I sold a man two dozen eggs that would not pass the pure food law. The pedlers came then to my store and smote me roundly with their staves, and cast me on this dungeon floor, and no one saves. I look out through the prison bars, and watch the flood of humanity, and see men pass in motor cars, who tried to rob the city tillard. Across the street, a topsman stands, his pockets full of buttons; he often takes both his hands distributing the price of votes. The grating aldorman drives by, his diamonds glowing on his shirt; he sees me, and he winks an eye, and leaves me to the gloom and dirt. The politicians are on parade before my dark and dreary cell; if they were asked how much they've made, I doubt the much if they could tell. They break some laws most every day; they all hire lawyers for the year; and yet they blithely go their way, while I, alas! am weeping here!

ITALIAN TAKEN INTO COURT FOR SHOOTING TODAY

JOE FURER GIVEN HEARING FOR SHOOTING RAILROAD MACHINIST.

MILLER'S EYE REMOVED

Dr. Nuzum and Pember Performed Operation on Injured Man This Morning—He Will Probably Recover.

The preliminary hearing of Joseph Furer, an Italian laborer employed at the Northwestern yards, charged with shooting Edward Miller, a machinist, with intent to kill, was held at quarter after nine this morning before Acting Municipal Judge Charles Lange. The preliminary examination of the prisoner was set for next Saturday morning at ten o'clock. Joe Gilbert, a fellow-countryman of Furer's, a native of the railroad laborers, acted as interpreter. Furer's knowledge of English being insufficient for him to understand or make himself understood concerning the charges and the questions put to him by the judge and District Attorney J. L. Fisher. Bail was fixed at $1500, which he was unable to furnish.

The shooting occurred yesterday afternoon at 3:45 in front of a shanty occupied by the Italian. According to the story told by Miller, he was crossing the tomato patch near the shanty and was ordered by the Italian to stop. He says he stopped and the Italian went into the shanty, came out with the shot gun and told him to "stand up." To Miller's question, "You weren't going to shoot me, were you?" the reply was given, "No." At that time the Italian blazed away, hitting Miller's face and forehead with shot. Shortly thereafter Miller was taken to the Mercy hospital, but could not be taken in there as that institution was filled with patients and he could not be accommodated, so he was taken to the county hospital.

The story told by Furer in court this morning was that Miller had been in his garden trying to steal the tomatoes and that he had driven him off. Miller returned, he says, with a pistol, pointing it at him, and fired once. Then he got the shot gun and shot Miller. The machinist had recently sold a coat to one of the section gang in which Furer worked, for twenty cents.

Miller, who is a traveling machinist, had been working at the Northwestern roundhouse for a short time, but had left yesterday. It is said that he and five "bomber" brethren had been indulging in a "kiss" party at the yards. The pistol which the Italian accused him of firing was not found, nor were there weapons of any kind on him. He is 24 years of age and unmarried.

The Italian is thirty-three years old, and came to America six years ago, but returned to his native country, remaining there a year. He has been working at the railroad yards about a year. His family, consisting of a wife and two children, are living in the old country. When told that the bail would be $1500, Gilbert, the interpreter, whose knowledge of English is very limited, got the idea that by paying the money his companion could go free and he and Furer had the idea that the money could be raised by Saturday.

Eyes Removed.
An operation was performed on Miller's right eye this morning by Drs. Pember and Nuzum and the optic was removed. There were two shots in the eye, one of which had gone through it. At half past one o'clock this afternoon he had not recovered from the effects of the operation, but no serious effects were feared, although the eyesight of the left eye might be affected by the injury to the right. Thirteen shot, about 13 size, were removed from Miller's face and forehead.

TO VOTE AGAIN ON BRIDGES AT THE NOVEMBER ELECTION

Best Legal Authorities Advise Mayor Carlo That "Combination Question" Invalidated Popular Verdict.

Consultation with some of the best legal authorities has convinced Mayor Carlo and others that there are grave doubts about the legality of the combination form of the bridge question as it was submitted to the electorate. All other questions raised with regard to the recent election are swept aside as casual and unimportant in view of the fact that the local officials proceeded exactly as authorized in all of the preliminary matters. The questions regarding proposed bridges at Fourth avenue and Machine street will be submitted again at the November election. An order to this effect will undoubtedly be passed at the next meeting of the council. And approximate estimates of the cost of construction will be included in the questions.

FIREMAN HURT IN BAD WRECK AT NEW YARDS

JOHN W. LEWIS SCALDED WHEN BIG ENGINE PLUNGES INTO A DITCH.

WORST ACCIDENT IN YEARS

Engine Crew on Train 584 Had Miraculous Escape From Death in Catastrophe Caused by a Misplaced Switch.

Fireman John W. Lewis of this city was badly scalded last night when engine 1480 on train 584 struck a misplaced switch at the south end of the new yards and was hurled into a deep ditch at the side of the track. The wreck is the worst that has occurred in this city for many years and it was only by a miracle that the three occupants of the cab escaped death. Lewis, who sustained a deep laceration on his head in addition to severe burns, is confined to the hospital but his condition is not considered serious.

From the stories told by the members of the train crew, a heavy fog made it almost impossible to see any distance when the engine left the track. Neither Engineer Wilson nor his fireman knew anything was wrong until the big locomotive, a class 22, the largest type of freight engine used on the system, left the rails and plowed through the right of way. So great was the momentum that the huge mass of metal was hurled from the embankment and did not come to a stop until it rested on its side in the ditch more than sixty feet from where it left the track. Four refrigerator cars were also derailed.

Both members of the engine crew stuck to their posts and were thrown from one side of the cab to the other when the engine turned turtle. Brakeman Hitchcock, who was in the cab at the time, narrowly escaped being crushed to death between the tank and the engine. Lewis was thrown bodily from the cab window before the engine finally settled and it was at first thought that he had been crushed under the tender, but he was later found lying nearby suffering from severe burns.

As soon as the train crew could collect themselves, the fire was drawn and a hurry call sent to the roundhouse for assistance. Lewis was taken to the hospital where his injuries were dressed by Drs. Fildell and Woods. Engineer Wilson pluckily stuck to his post until this morning when the "track" was cleared and wrecking trains arrived.

Fortunately for traffic, the south board main passenger track was not blocked and it was possible to bring the big wreckers from the Madison and North Wisconsin divisions directly to the scene. Work was begun early in the morning and by noon the tender had been replaced on the rails. Both of the powerful cranes were used in lifting the big engine from its bed in the ditch to the rails but the task was finally finished this evening. A large crowd from the city watched the work.

At the time of the accident, William Canary was in charge of the switches at the south end of the yards. He was a new man and it was his first night on the job. He disappeared immediately after the wreck and has not yet been located. Brakeman Ralph Hitchcock left for his home in Chicago this morning. Conductor Mont Elsworth, who had charge of the train, resides in Woodstock. He, together with the rear end brakeman, was unhurt.

Both Engineer James Wilson and Fireman Lewis reside in this city. The former has been running for about three years while Lewis was promoted about a month ago but had been firing since his promotion.
Record time was made in clearing the track of the wreck. More than fifty men were rushed to the scene and under the orders of the wrecking foreman cleared away the broken ties and rails and laid a new track. Master Mechanic L. L. Hoffman had a force of machinists at work on the engine before it was placed on the rails and the locomotive was ready to be taken to the shops as soon as the wrecking gang finished their work.

THE GIRL WAS MADLY JEALOUS

ETHEL LENEVE FEARED CRIPPEN WOULD FAIL TO MARRY HER.

HOPED FOR AN ELOPEMENT

Typist Expected Belle Elmore to Go Away With Man and That Dentist Would Obtain Divorce That He Might Wed Her.

London, Sept. 20.—Miss Ethel Clara Leneve was jealous of Belle Elmore, wife of Doctor Crippen, being before the last named woman was found dead in her home. This was revealed by a witness in the trial of Miss Leneve and Crippen on the charge of murder.

In her distress Miss Leneve confided in her landlady, Mrs. Jackson. The story that the latter told on the witness stand revealed the most sensational evidence introduced at the preliminary trial.

Expected to Be Married.

Mrs. Jackson said that the accused girl gave up her room March 12, explaining that she was leaving to marry Doctor Crippen.

Until the first week in February Miss Leneve slept regularly at Mrs. Jackson's. After that she stopped at the house only occasionally. She said that she passed the other nights at the home of friends. Once, early in February, Miss Leneve mentioned having been at the Hilltop-Crescent home of the Crippens to help the doctor search for a bank book which showed an account of $1,000. A diamond chain and rings had been found in the house and the doctor raised $800 on them.

Typist Is Distressed.

About the middle of February, the witness said, Miss Leneve appeared in a "terrifying state of agitation." Her eyes seemed starting out of her head. The landlady insisted on an explanation.

"Would you be surprised if I told you that it was the doctor and Miss Elmore?" the witness asked Miss Leneve as saying, "It was the cause of my trouble when you first knew me. She is his wife, and when I saw her go away together it makes me realize my position as to what she is and what I am."

"What is the use of your worrying about another woman's husband?" Mrs. Jackson asked.

Miss Leneve answered: "Miss Elmore has been threatening to go away with another man. Doctor Crippen has been waiting for her to do so, when he would divorce her."

BOMBS WERE THROWN: 3 HURT

ATTEMPTS ARE MADE TO WRECK CHICAGO DANCE HALL AND CAFE.

THROWER IS NOT CAPTURED

Three Persons Are Dangerously Hurt, One Woman Said to Be Dying—Believed to Be Renewal of the Gambling War.

Chicago, Sept. 20.—The war of the gamblers was suddenly resumed last night with the firing of bombs Nos. 40 and 41, after peace had prevailed for several months.

That no one was killed in either explosion is regarded as marvelous. One of the bombs was exploded in the rear of Friberg's dance hall and saloon, located on Twenty-second street in the heart of the town. This place is owned by Alderman John J. Coughlin, known throughout the world as "The Knott House."

Three Seriously Hurt.

One man and two women were dangerously injured by the bomb which wrecked the dance hall and one of the women is supposed to be dying.

While the police and fire departments were responding to calls from the dance hall another bomb wrecked a saloon at Sixty-third street and Cottage Grove avenue, managed by Harry Cavanaugh, but formerly owned by John Brennan and "Paddy" Grimes.

Police Are Mystified.

No arrests have been made thus far and the police, as in the other cases, seem powerless to solve the mysteries of the bomb throwing. The bomb explosions have thrown consternation into the camps of both the gamblers and politicians. This is the first time that any attempt has been made to wreck any of the places controlled by "the men higher up."

Kuykendall, grand sire and commander-in-chief of the sovereign grand lodge, in his annual report said that at the close of last December the total membership, including subordinate lodge members and visitors, only of the Rebekah lodges, was 1,952,421. The total revenue for 1909, Mr. Kuykendall reported, was in round numbers $10,827,000, and total relief, $5,325,000.

SMARTNESS OF SIMPLICITY

Secret of the Woman Whose House, Appearance and Conversation Create Best Impression.

Think of the woman whose house, whose appearance, whose conversation creates the best impression and you will realize that absolute simplicity is the secret. Remember this in selecting your summer home, also when you meet strangers on your summer vacation.

Unfortunately, simplicity is not cheap. You will pay more for the hat of simple lines, the frock that is of exquisitely dainty embroidery and sheerness of material, than you will for something more ornate and dashing.

If you wish to pass a woman who knows, you will no more overload your back than you will your digestion. Better a few things of irreplaceable cut and quality than an elaborate wardrobe of flustering flattery. It will doubtless mean having your clothes made to order or weary rounds of the shops in search of the simple, but it pays.

It is not always possible to have the house simple. If you rent your landlord's taste is sure to be fancy and the fixtures and decorations will wring your heart. The furniture is up to you. There are nowadays so many good copies of artistic old pieces that there is no excuse for the hideous display of houses furnished in the middle of the last century and later.

Adopt a simple scheme of decoration for your entire house and make everything bought conform to it. This does not need the training of a professional decorator; any woman who makes a study of simplicity and keeps her eyes open for bargains in that line can achieve it.

These three rules go far in the right direction. Stick to good lines of the period chosen; do not overwork and buy only the best, though it must be a piece at a time with long waits between.

Simplicity of manner is the crowning touch—the real you. The rest is but the outer shell, a matter of training or perhaps of a skilled decorator, or clever modiste. Do not post, do not be affected, above all, do not boast. You may not realize it, but in meeting strangers the simple, easy, sincere manner makes a much better impression with the right people, than airs, much manner, or great assumption of place and power.

A HOME RECIPE TO MAKE THE HAIR GROW

To the Editor:

I wish you would print the following in answer to the lady whose letter recently appeared asking if any of your readers knew a good remedy for keeping the hair from falling out and making it grow.

My hair used to be thin and stringy and came out so fast I was afraid to draw a comb through it. I was terribly annoyed with dandruff and itching of the scalp and was really afraid I should become completely bald.

I tried all kinds of advertised hair tonics, and spend a lot of money, but they didn't help me a bit.

One day by lucky accident I chanced to hear of an extract from a South American shrub, which, when combined with other ingredients, was said to be wonderfully effective in cases just like mine. I tried it, having not much faith, but it was miraculously effective. My hair stopped falling out after only a few days' use, my dandruff all went away and after a couple of weeks a fine new growth of hair began to come in and grow very rapidly. Today my hair is very thick, luxuriant and in color a brilliant, glossy gold. My friends are always complimenting me on it and saying how pretty it is. I am not a handsome woman nor a vain one, but I am honestly proud of my hair which once was positively a fright.

If "Mrs. L. H. W." or any other of your readers would like to try this recipe they can get it filled at most any drug store. I'll give it to them just as it was given to me: Lavender Compound, 2 oz.; Menthol Crystals, 1/2 drachm; Bay Rum, 8 oz. If you care to have it perfumed, add 1 or 2 teaspoonfuls of To-Kalon Perfume. The perfume, however, is not necessary. Be sure to get all the ingredients in the Lavender Compound package, as one of them entitles you to a sprinkler top for your Hair Tonic bottle.

The druggist will mix these ingredients together for you if you request. I found this far and away better than all the prepared hair tonics on the market.

Veterans Get Into Action.

Allied Organizations of G. A. R. Begin Annual Conventions.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 20.—First of the organizations allied to the Grand Army to get into action, the Naval Veterans' association opened its annual convention at 9 o'clock this morning on the Steel Pier. William G. McEwan of Philadelphia, the commodore commanding, presided and announced the arrangements for parade tomorrow. An hour later the encampment of the Sons of Veterans was formally opened with Commander-in-Chief George W. Pollitt of Patterson, N. J., in the chair. The third body to convene was the National Association of Union Ex-prisoners of War, which went into session at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. All through the day there have been sessions of the national and advisory councils of the several organizations.

On Young's Million Dollar Pier this evening will be held the first semi-official session of the Grand Army. Governor Ford and Mayor Stoy will make addresses of welcome. Henry Roush will read an original poem. Commander-in-Chief Van Sant will speak and there will be addresses of greeting from all the allied organizations. An interesting feature will be the presentation to the United States government of the Andersonville prison ground by National President Jennie I. Berry on behalf of the Woman's Relief corps. The program will be varied with much music.

WISCONSIN CO.
TO PUT WIRES
UNDERGROUND

MILE OF CONDUITS WILL BE LAID IN THE BUSINESS DISTRICT

IF THE COUNCIL APPROVES

Session of the City Fathers Last Evening Was A Brief One and Devoted Largely to Highway Matters.

At the regular meeting of the common council last evening a request made by the Wisconsin Telephone Co. through District Manager F. J. Mayer of Madison for permission to put its wires underground in the business district was referred to the highway and judiciary committees. Further time was granted for the consideration of the petition at the instance of Alderman Sheridan who suggested that the city should require a bond of $1,000 to insure the restoration of the streets to their proper condition and that it might be advisable for the city to arrange to install a fire alarm system at the same time. The system which the company has in contemplation would traverse twelve blocks, or approximately a mile, and the permit to excavate would include Milwaukee street from Wisconsin street to a point 113 feet west of Franklin street; bluff street from N. First to Court street; Main street from N. First to Court street; and Franklin street from Wall to Pleasant street. Work on the new building on East Milwaukee street is progressing rapidly and the company hopes to have the underground system and all other outside work completed when the structure is ready for occupancy. A resolution offered by Ald. Buchholz, approved by City Attorney Maxfield, and passed by the council, settled the vexed question of the water of crushed stone to this corporation by the city. It provided that the city should sell surplus No. 2 grade stone at the crusher to the Wisconsin Telephone Co. or any other parties that might desire it at a price not less than cost. Supt. W. E. Dulin indicated that a surplus existed, with no adequate facilities for storing it, and it was also shown that Andrew Barron, the lessee of the quarry, had no objection to such sale.

Other Highway Matters.

The Shurtleff Co. was granted permission to build a coal bin under the sidewalk in front of its new building on South Main street, the same to be constructed of reinforced concrete and steel girders and under the direction of the city engineer. The company is held for any damages incurred to the work.

City Engineer C. V. Kerch submitted new grades for Jackson street from St. Lawrence Ave. to S. Second street; and for Pleasant street, from Washington street to Terrace street and the same were accepted.

Supt. Dulin's report of stone crushing operations for the two weeks ending Sept. 17 showed that the Gumb-Graham Co. had drawn 191 yards of the material to Shielar St. in the Third ward and that J. Hager had drawn 28 yards to the site of the Wisconsin Telephone Co.'s new building. The report was accepted.

Orders were passed calling for the repaving of Dodge street from S. Franklin to S. River street, with crushed stone and a section of thoroughfare from the east side of S. River street to the end of Dodge street near Doty's mill, with gravel. The purchase of a carload of gutters was authorized and the street commissioner was directed to clean all gutters in the Fourth ward in need of such attention.

Matters of Finance.

The finance committee's report on bills was adopted and at the instance of Chairman Brown the city treasurer was directed to equalize erroneous charges against the wards for cutting weeds by making the following transfers from the general fund: to First ward fund, $51; Second, $18; Third, $19.60; Fifth, $26.50. The council also passed a measure calling for the payment of $21.66 to T. A. Hoveland for services as janitor at the city hall from Sept. 8 to Sept. 18.

SUCCESS OF FAIR
VERY GRATIFYING

All Previous Records for Gate Receipts Broken This Year.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Monroe, Wis., Sept. 20.—Knight of Strathmore, owned by George Heller of this city, now holds the world's record for four-year-olds on a half mile track. The horse smashed three records here at the fair. He finished the mile in 2:06.4, clipping three full seconds off of the world's record. He made the Wisconsin half mile track record for any age, which before stood at 2:06.3, and he broke the track record for a quarter of a mile, pulling down the $50 which is the standard offer for a new track record. The horse's fine exhibition of speed sent the crowd watching wild with enthusiasm and all the horsemen on the grounds held their watches as the pretty animal glided around the track without a break. Some caught him at 2:06 and none not him more than 2:06.4, which was the time announced by the starting judge. The races at the fair this year were the best ever known here and there was never a greater field of horses.

The total receipts at the gate smashed all previous records, totaling $1,000 in excess of last year which was a banner year. Saturday's crowd, taking in account all season fairs, is placed at $21,000. The excess will be applied toward the cost of the improvements which were completed at the grounds the past year and which cost over $2,000.

Schools Opened.

The public schools opened here yesterday after the summer vacation. The high school opened with an attendance of 170. Several changes will be made in the kindergarten departments. The kindergarten in the Central building has been shifted to the east building which has not had this department. A teacher's meeting was held late yesterday afternoon to arrange for distributing the pupils properly in the different buildings.

Other Local News.

H. E. Griffin, buttermaker at the Brownstown creamery, was awarded the blue ribbon on his butter exhibit at the state fair in Milwaukee. Not only did Griffin carry with his share of prizes in the cheese exhibit, but this year took first prize on butter. John Elmer & Son of this city took second on Limburger, and Carl Stocker of Monroe took second on Swiss.

Miss Mae Howe returned to Chicago yesterday to resume her course in nursing training at the Presbyterian hospital in Chicago. She was compelled to give up her work three months ago on account of diphtheria.

FAMOUS RACE HORSE IS KILLED.

Peg Woffington Breaks Neck When Frightened by Severe Storm.

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 20.—Becoming frightened in a storm which raged throughout this section, Peg Woffington, one of the most famous race horses and brood mares of the country, ran into a tree and broke her neck at the Ashland farm of Major T. C. McDowell.

A strange coincidence in the death of the horse was that the statue of Henry Clay, recently erected in the Lexington cemetery, was struck by lightning and damaged. Henry Clay was the founder of Ashland farm.

Two Attempt to Fly Over Mountains But Fail.

Brig, Switzerland, Sept. 20.—Though the weather was unpropitious for the bold undertaking, Henry Weymann, American, and George Chaves, Peruvian, attempted the cross-Alps airplane flight. Both failed, but not until they had given pretty exhibitions of high flying that promised better success in fair weather.

A stiff breeze was blowing in the Alpin pass and the mountain peaks were hidden in a dense fog.

THEATRE

At the Theatre Tonight.

Mrs. E. D. E. N. Southworth, whose record of fifty-six novels has never been equaled by any other American author, scored her greatest success with "Ishmael" and "Self Raised." Years have passed since these two novels first claimed the attention of lovers of fiction, but they are still read today with avidity. "Ishmael" has been dramatized by Miss Grace Hayward and is now being offered on tour, with great success. Keeping away from the stilted, rambling style of the books, Miss Hayward has fashioned a pretty play, in which all the principal characters appear again. This attraction will be offered at the Myers theatre tonight.

Parade.

The Syracuse Standard says in speaking of Parada that will open Thursday night at the Myers: "There is a dash and go and a professional atmosphere about the 'Parada,' the entertainment which is holding the boards at the Wielding Opera House for the benefit of the Homeopathic Hospital that removes it from the ranks of the ordinary amateur production and makes it well worth witnessing in itself, aside from the personal element due to the fact that the entertainers include 200 well known young men and women of the city.

"Several of the specialties rendered with attractive ensemble effects would pass muster in almost any musical comedy that has been presented here by professionals this season. One of this number is the drill of the Hussars in the last act when seventeen young ladies attractively attired do intricate movements with the aplomb, confidence and precision of stage veterans.

The Important Problem

confronting anyone in need of a laxative is not a question of a single action only, but of permanently beneficial effects, which will follow proper efforts to live in a healthful way, with the assistance of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, whenever it is required, as it cleanses the system gently yet promptly, without irritation and will therefore always have the preference of all who wish the best of family laxatives.

The combination has the approval of physicians because it is known to be truly beneficial, and because it has given satisfaction to the millions of well-informed families who have used it for many years past.

To get its beneficial effects, always buy the genuine manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

If Your Neighbor Has Electric Light and you have not, just step into his house some evening after dark and compare its light with your own. Study each point of convenience, cleanliness, clearness, beauty carefully, then figure out for yourself if it would not pay you well to have your house wired for electric light at once.

Electric light today is cheaper and better than ever before, since the General Electric Company placed its MAZDA lamp on the market. We have arranged to supply our customers with the G. E. MAZDA lamps on very favorable terms. These lamps give two to three times as much light as other lamps using the same current.

If your house is located on any of our distributing lines we shall be glad to advise you about having it wired and will give you more facts about the efficient electric lighting of your home.

"BRAIN FOOD."

Since the battle is won by brain rather than brawn, a "brain food" is sought as an elixir. The brain can do its best work only when every organ and tissue is properly nourished, but one-tenth of the solid matter of the brain is phosphorus, which also enters largely into the composition of every cell in the body, and its compounds, the phosphates, are all-important. Fish contains a large percentage of phosphorus, but the old idea that fish is a superior brain food has been exploded. Pure phosphorus is not absorbed and the utility of the various drug compounds designed to supply it is doubtful, especially as it is supplied in food in the best form of assimilation. The peanut contains a large percentage of phosphoric acid, and eaten in its natural state, unroasted, gives mental activity without undue stimulation. Phosphorus is also largely supplied in beans, walnuts, peaches, wheat, milk and meat, unpolished rice and other cereals and nuts. Whole wheat contains four times as much as fine white flour. It is important that children should have sufficient phosphorus-bearing food, as supplied in milk for the infant and in whole wheat or nuts for the older ones. It is not necessary to give a great variety of food to supply this and all other elements. Whole wheat alone gives an ample supply.

She uttered a little mocking laugh. "Pardon me. It was not a fair question, and I shouldn't have asked it, but your hesitation was sufficient answer." Then as he broke into a heated denial she went on:

"Like most men, you think a woman has but one asset upon which to trade. However, if I am responsible for your difficulties that was my affair, and if I determined to help you, you had better be prepared to accept my terms."

"You are a very strange woman," he said. "I have never known a woman so determined to help me as you are."

"I thought there might be something new bearing on my sight."

"Indeed! So you are the chap who wrote that article some time ago, eh?"

"Yes, Mr. Good, wasn't it?"

"Doubtless, from the newspaper point of view. Where did you get it?"

er when you're not. No, you better stay here and arrange to guard this stuff till morning. I'll do the rest."

The following morning, true to his word, the big fellow walked into the warehouse followed by a score or more of burly fishermen.

Balt bore signs of strife. The big man's lips were cut, white back of one ear a knot had sprung up overnight like a fungus.

They fell to work quickly, stripping themselves to their undershirts; they unmaned the holds, seized trucks and bales and began their trucks with a thoroughly nonchalant air. Some of them were still so drunk that they staggered, their awkwardness affording huge sport to their companions, yet even in their intoxication they were surprisingly capable. George sought out Boyd and proudly inquired:

"What do you think of them, eh?"

"They are splendid. But where are the others?"

"Well, there are two or three that won't be able to get around at all."

He meditatively stroked the knuckles of his right hand, which were badly bruised. "But the balance will be here tomorrow. These are just the mildest mannered ones—the family men, you might say. The others will show up gradual."

The work had not continued many hours before a stranger made his way in upon the dock and began to argue with the first fisherman he met. Boyd, approaching him, demanded:

"What do you want?"

"Nothing," said the newcomer. "Then get out."

"What for? I'm just talking to this man."

"Will you go?"

"Yes, you can't lead that cargo this way," the man began threateningly. "And you can't make him go."

At which Emerson snatched him by the collar and quickly deprived the fisherman of the great delight of the fishermen. He thrust him out into the street.

"I'm a union man, and you can't lead that ship with seals," the stranger swore as he slunk off.

The first actual violence, however, occurred when the fishermen knocked off for the noon hour. Boyd called up the police department, then summoned Big George. It was with considerable difficulty that the nonunion crew fought its way back to resume work at 1 o'clock.

During the afternoon the strikers made several attempts to enter the dock shed, and it required a drum stuck by the guards to restrain them.

The next morning found the nonunion men out in such force that they were divided into a night and a day crew, half of them being sent back to report later, while among the mountaineers, freight the work went forward faster than ever. But in time the city awoke to the realization that a serious conflict was in progress. The handful of pickets, become a center of general interest.

It was on the fourth day that Boyd espied the man in the gray suit among the strikers and pointed him out to his three companions. Clyde and Fraser having joined him and George in a spirit of curiosity.

Late in the afternoon, without a moment's warning, the strikers rushed in a body, bearing down the guards like reeds.

Emerson and his companions found themselves carried away before they could do more than clutch their hats.
